BRYAN ATTENDS CHURCH. IN LINCOLN'S PEW IN THE NEW

YORK AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN. Takes a Drive with Popullet Chairman and Others in the Afternoon-Leaves Washington at 10 P. M. for Baltimore-His Itinerary for the Week WASHINGTON, Sept. 20,-Mr. Bryan's plans for this evening were rather hastly changed to permit him to make the necessary railroad connec tions to fill his engagement in Dover, Del., tomorrow. Instead of remaining here until to morning, he left at 10 o'clock to-night over the Pennsylvania Railroad for Baltimore and will leave that city to-morrow morning at 6:10 for Dover. The Sabbath day was occupied by the candidate in securing a much needed rest. He retired last evening at midnight, immediately upon his return from Baltimore, and slept until 8 o'clock this morning, where he arose much refreshed and remained quietly in doors until 11 o'clock, when he attended services at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. The announcement of this fact attracted to the church a number of persons not accustomed to worship there. but the edifice was by no means crowded. Mr

Bryan was not a stranger to the members of the New York Avenue Church During his career in Congress, and while the Rev. W. A. Bartlett was pastor, Mr. Bryan was a frequent attendant upon the services. He usually escorted his father, a tall, strikinglooking man, with heavy gray locks, who was blind, or nearly so. To-day Mr. Bryan had a seat in the pew formerly occupied by President Lincoln, who attended the church under the pastorate of the Rev. Dr. Gurley.

The Rev. Dr. Radcliffe, the paster, had no knowledge of the intended presence of the Presidential candidate until he reached the house There was only the slightest reference in any part of the service to the pending political struggle. In his prayer the preacher asked that in this time of commotion the Lord would be with the people, and that the President whom they might select would be one of the Lord's own choosing, giving the country "Peace and Dr. Radciffe's text was taken from the Solomon's dream, "Ask what I shall give you.

At the close of the services Mr. Bryan went forward to the pulpit, as had been his custom, and spoke a few words to the preacher. Many of the congregation took advantage of the opportunity to press forward and pay their respects. As he left the church there was slight cheering by the crown that waited for his appearance.

In the afternoon Mr. Bryan received a number pearance.

In the afternoon Mr. Bryan received a number of callers, and at 7 o'clock this evening went for a drive with Mr. James L. Norris. assistant treasurer of the National Committee; Chairman Butler, and Secretary Edgarton of the Pooulist Committee, his host, Mr. Bride, and Mr. Josephus Daniel. The nearest approach to a political conference of any kind was the conversation held between the candidate and Mr. Butler while this ride was in progress.

It was not known that the candidate would take a ride at that hour, but the presence of the carriage in front of the house soon became noises about and in a short time fully 1,000 people had gathered. He was greeted with cheers on his appearance. Among Mr. Bryan's visitors to-day, in addition to the persons named, were Senator Tillman, who has just returned from Pennsylvania, and Mr. John Saulisbury and Gen. Kennett of Delaware, who came here as a committee to escort Mr. Bryan to Dover.

Mr. Bryan's departure from Washington was

Mr. Bryan's departure from Washington was taken without demonstration. It was not generally known that he was to leave, and only the usual stragglers and passengers about the station saw him off. He entered the track shed through the baggare room, and went at once to the train. The ride to Baltimore consumes but an hour, and Mr. Bryan and his party took seats in an ordinary day coach. H's litherary for the week has not been completed definitely. Tomorrow at 1 o'clock he speaks in Dover, and at 7 in the evening at Wilmington. On Tuesday he will be in Philadelphia, and in crossing New Jorsey will make a few speeches. Wednesday night he is booked to speak in Brooklyn. Through Connecticut and Massachusetts, on his way to Maine, he will also speak but the exact ocalities Mr. Bryan was unable to-night to tive. He will spend next Sunday with Mr. ewall at the latter's home in Bath, Me. He rearns to Broaklyn on the night of the 29th to ddress a labor meeting. On the 30th Mr. Bryan will again be in Washington for half an our on his way to Cumberland, Md., and Albeeling, in both of which places, besides startinsburg, W. Va., he speaks on that day. Dover. ### THE ALBANY ARGUS FOR THACHER. It Says that the State Issue Is Plattism. Not Bryanism.

ALBANY, Sept. 20 .- The Arms to-morrow will place the Democratic State ticket at the head of its editorial page with the following comments, under the heading: "Now all together for the State ticket." The Argus has not yet definitely announced its position on the Chicago nominees and platform, but its editorial tone is strongly against both the Chicago candidates and platform. It says:

The Argus is for John Boyd Thacher for we are Democrats. It is for him because he is abundantly qualified, because his chief oppoently disqualified because the State issue is Plattism, not Bryanism; the opening of dives under the Raines free rum law, not the opening of mints under a free rum law, not the opening of mints under a free coinage law.

"Differences as to national issues are unavoidable and excusable; differences as to State issues are avoidable and inexcusable. The Democratic ticket nominated at Buffalo is clean, representative and acceptable not alone to Democrats, but to Republicans desirous of effacing from the State escutcheons the stain and the stigma of Piatt-machine control.

"The platform of the Buffalo Convention, as to State issues, is clear, Democratic, and in the interests of economy and good government. It is aimed at the cleansing of the Augean stables of the Platts, the Payns, the Aldridges, and the lesser creatures of the dominant oligarchy that consumes the taxpayers' substance, and whose control steadily increases the State tax rate. The Aryus abates no jot of its indignation at the stuitification and stupidity of endorsement of the Chicago platform, but it declines to submit the Democratic party to vivisection when the removal of a wart is in question. It declines to complicate State affairs with the national imbroglio, and it begs of all Democrats, whatever their views as to the national issue, to do likewise; to unite in support of the excellent State ticket, upon the State lastes so admirably summed up in the Buffalo platform."

AT POPOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS. An Alleged Answer to an Alleged Circular by the McCormick Reaper Company.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.-The Popocratic National Committee claimed yesterday to have received a the McCormick Harvesting Machine Compan of Chicago to its agents throughout the West, telling them to supply their travellers with gold literature and instruct them to use it among the farmers the same as advertising matter of the firm. firm. J. A. Wilson, the agent of the company at Carthage, Mo., who received one of the letters, is said to have replied as follows:

"You are on a cold trail. Missouri will give Bryan 60,000 majority. If these letters are written by authority of your company, any Missouri farmer who uses a McCormick harvester deserves to sell his wheat for 40 cents a bushel." Benjamin F. Shively, the Democratic nominee for Governor of Indiana, conferred with the campaign managers about the work in his State. He said the Democracy and Populists would surely carry the State. F. S. Fistcher of Jackson, Tenn., was a caller at headquarters. He is a Bryan supporter, but he admitted the nominee would run 30,000 behind the nominee for Governor, ex-Gov. Taylor, ascribing the loss to the growth and popularity of the gold sentiment in Tennessee. In the Memphis district, he said, Congressman Josiah Patterson, the regular Democratic nominee, was supporting Bryan, but talking for gold on the stump. Mr. Patterson, he said, would run ahead of Mr. Bryan, who would carry the State by 20,000.

Hoke Urges Voters to Support the Chicago Candidates,

DALTON, Ga., Sept. 20,-Ex-Secretary Hoke Smith spoke here yesterday. He referred to an address which he delivered here two years ago in favor of the gold standard. Then he argued that the Democratic National Convention should declare against the free coinage of silver To-day, he said that he had not changed his views on the financial question and he regretted that he could not endorse the financial plank of the Chicago platform. He urged, however, that those who like himself did not approve of this plank should remain loyal to the regular nomi-

Texas Popocratic Clubs Send Greetings to Bryan.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 20.-One hundred and fifty-four clubs were represented in the State Convention of Popocratic clubs held in this Convention of Population and the line city yeaterday, representing an enrolled membership of 30,000 voters. A telegram of congratulation, endorsement, and encouragement was sent to W. J. Bryan at Washington, pleding Texas to give him at least 200,000 majority.

M'RINLEY GETS A DAY'S REST. Delegations by the Score Tet Going to Call on the Nominee. CANTON, O., Sept. 20.-Major McKinley had restful time to-day after the busiest week he has experienced since his nomination. Although he shows no signs of fatigue, and says he is feeling as well as he ever did in his life. he improved the opportunity the day afforded. and was as near idle as he ever allows himself to be. He did not go to church, and was away from his home only a short time. At noon he had several neighbors in for an informal dinner, and in the afternoon and evening a few friends dropped in for a social call.

The organization of Republican clubs being vigorously prosecuted all over the country, and every day brings the greetings of many new ones to Major McKinley. Just now there is much activity among Republican bicyclists. They are organizing parade clubs everywhere, and many of them are arranging to come to Canton. Toledo and Chicago already have definite arrangements. James R. Dunn. former President of the National L. A. W., nov in charge of the branch of the work among the wheelmen at the Chicago Republican headquarters, was here over Sunday arranging to these recentions.

The tide of pilgrimages to Canton continues to grow. The first one this week will come on Tuesday, and appointments have already been made for twenty-four by Saturday night. There is only one week day before Oct. 1 some delegation is not booked. The latest date now fixed is Oct. 17. Fully fifty delegations are definitely announced and every day others get assignments for dates.

These are the assignments for this week: Tuesday, Sept. 22-Citizens of Jamestown and Chautauqua county, N. Y., sixteen coaches; and Chautauqua county, N. Y., sixteen coaches; McKinley Ciub of northern Indiana: Republicans and friends from Holmes county, O. Wednesday, Sept. 23—The first voters and Republicans of Veterans of Muncie, Ind.; the Republicans of Wood county, O., including the Manhattan McKinley Club and the First Voters' McKinley Club of Bowling Green.

Thursday, Sept. 24—The Republicans of Westmoreland county, Pa., 700 strong; Republicans of Oil City, Pa.

Thursday, Sept. 24—The Republicans of Westmoreland county, Pa., 700 strong; Republicans of Oil City, Pa.
Friday, Sept. 24—Citizens of Crawford county, Pa.; clizens of Wandotto county, O.; clizens of East Springfield, Pa.; Rallway Men's Soundmoney Club of Tiffin, O.
Saturday, Sept. 28—The John Dalzell Republican Club, workingmen and employees of the Westinghouse Air Brake Coumpany of Wilmerding, Pa.; employees of Spang, Chafant & Co., Eina, Pa., Peoria, ill.; travelling mens' club, employees of the Duquesne Steel Works, Duquesne, Pa.; Swedub-American citizens and Flambeaux Club of Rockford, Ill., 800 strong; McKinley Club, composed entirely of the workers, 1,000 strong, from Kensington, Fa: the Republicans of Piqua, O.; the Republican Wheelmen of Toledo; workmen from Jones & Laughlin plant, Pittsburgh; clitzens of the Western reserve of Ohio; organizations of the women of Cleveland and neighborhood; Republicans and citizens of Ada, O.
The speeches which Major McKinley made in August, together with some account of the circumstances which called them forth, have been printed and bound and will be ready for distribution this week. The demand for his speeches made between the day of his nomination and the list of August and the letter of acceptance is unabated. The published speeches now number sisty, but the additions for September will bring the total up to more than a hundred.

Major McKinley has been hearing a great deal of cheering news, and thinks the situation improving daily throughout the country. Several callers to-day from the far West have told him that Wyoming, Colorado, and Maho have been thoroughly canvassed, and that there is ample foundation for the belief that he will carry them all by small pluralities. The news which Major McKinley has been thoroughly canvassed, and the letter of several callers to-day from the far West have told him that the paragraphy from the Pacific slope is thoroughly reassuring. He is informed that it ha nersent exerctions where the country c foundation for the belief that he will carry them all by smail pluralities. The news which Major McKinley has had to-day from the Pacific slope is thoroughly reassuring. He is informed that if the oresent exertions which Republicans are making there be continued every State on the Pacific coast will be carried by the Republicans. Senator Cullom assured Major McKinley that Illinois would give him 100,000 plurality, and Congressman McCleary of Minnesota said that the sound-money idea would prevail in his State, and that it was growing stronger every hour. Senator Thurston is confident that the Republicans will carry Nebraska, and told Major McKinley that he need have no further apprehension on that score. National Executive apprehension on that score. National Executive Committeeman Dawes of Chicago confirmed these rosy reports to-day, and said that over all the country the situation from a Republican point of view was full of substantial encouragement.

TORE UP M'KINLEY'S PICTURE, A Free Fight in the Silver Republican Convention at Sait Lake.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 20.-Yesterday was a day of Conventions in this city. Four were held-two Republican, one Democratic, and one Populist. The two latter were for the nomination of county officers and passed off quietly. One of the Republican Conventions was to elect delegates to the McKinley Republican State Convention to be held on Sept. 28, and the other to elect delegates to the Silver Republican Convention

The latter gathering was an exceedingly lively affair. The Committee on Resolutions brought in two reports. The majority recommended Governor, because he is a Democrat; because | that the delegates elected on Friday by the Independent or third wing of the Republicans be chosen as delegates to the Silver Republican mended that the Convention elect delegates in mended that the Convention elect delegates in the usual manner.

This precipitated a fight. Ardent sliver men jumped upon the platform, and, seizing a large portrait of Major McKinley which adorned the Chairman's table, proceeded to tear it to pieces. The McKinley followers rushed to the resone, and a free fight followed, which the Sergeants-at-Arms were powerless to stop. Finally some of the ringleaders were ejected from the hall, and peace was restored. The minority report was adopted by a large majority, and the business of electing delegates proceeded without interruption.

ALABAMA'S ELECTION FRAUDS. stitutional Remedies.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 20.-The commercial clubs of the State are called to meet in Birmingham on Oct. 6 to consider from a business standpoint the matter of a Constitutional Convention for Alabama. Since the days of reconstruction the impression has prevailed, whether justly or unjustly, that the government of the State and of the twenty counties in middle Alabama in which the negro vote exceeds that of the white has been kept in the hands of the Democrats by means of ballot-box frauds. Of late years defeated candidates have aired their grievances in contests before the Federal Congress and have advertised Alabams as a State in which the sacredness of the ballot is ignored. The negroes are now distributing their woting patronage in Alabama among the several parties, and the danger of their controlling elections in the black counties is not now believed to exist.

The purpose of the proposed Convention is to consult as to the situation and devise some plan to suggest to the Legislature to remedy the apparently existing evils. The Convention proceedings will be watched with great interest all over the South. It is believed that the National Democrats will lend all of the aid possible to the movement. The Popocrats will divide on the question, and the Republicans will favor it unless it is proposed to promote the Mississipple educational qualification for suffrage.

JACOB WORTH FOR CONGRESS. The Platt Leader in Brooklyn May Suc ceed Mr. Beanett.

It is said that the Hon. Jacob Worth, the eader of the Platt Republican forces in Brooklyn, is ambitious to crown his political career by securing a seat in Congress, and that he is likely to succeed Congressman Charles G. Bennett as the Representative from the Fifth district. Mr. Bennett and his friends have supposed that he was slated for a renomination, but it is probable was stated for a renomination, but it is probable that he could easily be induced to step aside in favor of Mr. Worth.

For over thirty years Mr. Worth has been a picturesque figure in Republican politics in Kings county, and served nearly fifteen years at Albany as Assemblyman and Senator. His Congressional aspirations will probably arouse fresh incitonal opposition, but there is little doubt that he can capture the nomination. Two years ago the Republicans captured the five Congress districts in Kings county, and they expect to hold them this year.

BRYAN'S VISIT TO BROOKLYN

Timed for Wednesday, His Managers S in Spite of a Washington Despatch. The Brooklyn Eagle had a despatch from Washington yesterday announcing that a change had been made in the itinerancy of Mr. William Jennings Bryan in the East, and that William Jennings Bryan in the East, and that the Boy Orator would arrive in Brooklyn on Sept. 28 instead of on Sept. 23.

The Academy of Music, as well as the Cler-mont Avenue Kink, have been hired for Sept. 23, and the despatch was a surprise to the Bryan managers in Brooklyn, It was said last night that there would positively be no change in the programme, and that Mr. Bryan would be in the city on Wednesday next. HINKLEY PROMISED BRYAN AFTER RETIRING FROM POLITICS, HOISTS THE BRYAN FLAG.

Sequel of that Silver Birch Dinner a Winnescok Ladge Where Brynn and Tom Benedict Were the Only Silver Men-Pen and Thimble New York Politics Two events, one just at hand and the other ust past, released last night a story which has been in the possession of THE SUN for some little time. The events are that William J. Bryan is to return to New York State this week the is to speak in Brooklyn on Wednesday night) and that James W. Hinkley, until Thursday Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, formally placed on Friday at the head of his news paper, the Poughkeepsle News, the names o Bryan and Sewall. It was their first appearance at the head of the editorial columns of the

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan on their first trip to New York State were entertained at Winnesook Lodge, on Slide Mountain, in the Catakilla. This was on Aug. 24. Mr. Hinkley is Presi dent of the club which owns the lodge. It is made up of thirty or more business men. Cleveland's Public Printer, Thomas E. Benedict, is one of the members. After the disastrous failure in Madison Square Garden Bryan started up the Hudson, and while he was at Rhinebeck Major Hinkley's son appeared with an invitation for Mr. and Mrs. Bryan to visit Winnesoek Lodge. Bryan eagerly accepted the invitation. He was aware that Major Hinkley, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee was President of the Winnesook Club.

Not a Democrat of any renown, except, possi bly, Elliott Danforth, and he isn't a Democrat of national renown, had attended the Bryan meeting in Madison Square Garden. Mr. Danforth presided at that meeting after Chairman James K. Jones of the Popocratic National Committee had besought Senator Hill and Major Hinkley in turn to do so. Senator Hill sent Danforth to preside at the meeting merely part of the plan which culminated at Buffalo - that is, to preserve the regu-larity of the Democratic State machine. Mr. Bryan was cut up over the absence of the Democrats from the Madison Square meeting and the invitation from Major Hink. ley therefore delighted him all the more. He foresaw a political demonstration in his honor as the candidate of the Chicago National Convention. He knew that most of the members of the Winnescok Club are Democrats. Immediately it went all over the State that Hink. ley and the Winnescokers were out for Bryan. The plain facts of the matter are:

The plain facts of the matter are:

Tom Benedict, one of the Cleveland officeholders who would hope to retain his job as Public Printer should Bryan, by a miracle, be elected, first agitated the Bryan invitation among the Winnesookers, but he was promptly ast upon by the members, who declared they wouldn't have any politics in the Lodge. Besides, the members din't like the urgency of Benedict, who appeared to forget that the club was not a political organization in his demand that Bryan should be invited. As a result of the discussion over this matter. Major Hinkley was requested, as President of the club, to invite
Mr. Bryan and at the same time to make Mr.
Bryan understand that there was no politics in the visit. So the invitation was sent, and, as was said, Bryan accepted it gladly as an overture from New York Democrats.
The Bryans arrived at the Lodge at 6:30 on the evening of Aug. 24. The club house had been beautifully decorated with rustic trimmings, principally silver birch, and although in its own mountain wilds golden rod was in profusion not a sprig of it had been intertwined with the trimmings of the silver birch. This was, as was afterward explained, a delicate compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Bryan. A dinner with fifty men and women around the board was given that evening in the Lodge in honor of the Bryans.
With the cigars and coffee came a few speeches.
President Hinkley welcomed the Bryans in a few words, thus:

"Mr. Bryan, the members of this club requested me to invite you and Mrs. Bryan to our mountain home. I wish to make it clear in as delicate language as possible, that there was no politics in the invitation, for of all the members of this lodge I know but one ireferring to Mr.
Benedictly who agrees in the slightest degree with the political and financial doctrines advanced by you. This club is made upof business men who are diametrically opposed to free silver and the economic doctrines preached by four in this crusade. But we have adorned our mountain home in your honor.
We have Tom Benedict, one of the Cleveland office names of Bryan and Sewall at the head of the editorial page of the Poughkeepsic Neus. This promise was fulfilled on Friday.

That visit of Bryan to Hinkley's club and a day or two later to Wolfert's Roost, Senator Hill's home in Albany, were, like the Danforth incident in Madison Square Garden, merely part of the plan which culminated at Buffalothe etting of machine delegates who would obey the behest of the Democratic leaders of the State, and thus "preserve the machine."

The few real free-silver men in the counties have been buncoed, the machine is in the same old hands, and John Boyd Thaoner, who declared for sound money and sourned the free silveries at the Saratoga Convention in June, is the Buffalo candidate for Governor on that frightful Chicago platform, which declares for free silver, income tax, repudiation, and the attack on the United States Supreme Court.

CONFERENCE AT WOLFERT'S ROOST.

Chairman Danforth and Major Hinkley Discuss Politics with Senator Hill.

ALBANY, Sept. 20. - The Hon, Elliot Danforth, the newly elected Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, chosen at Buffalo on Thursday, was with Senator Hill this afternoon for nearly three hours. He arrived here at 1 o'clock from New York, and drove immediately to Wolfert's Roost.

Former Chairman James W. Hinkley of the Democratic State Committee was with Senator Hill when Mr. Danforth called. The plans for carrying on the campaign in this State were discussed at length. The make-up of the executive committee of the Democratic State Committee, the appointment of which Chairman Danforth will announce this week, was also given attention. Mr. Danforth left here for New York on the 5 o'clock train. He had othing to say regarding his visit to Senator nothing to say regarding his visit to Senator Hill, nor did he know as yet where the campaign headquarters of the Democratic State Committee would be established in New York city. He expects to have the plans for the campaign definitely outlined by the time the Democratic State Committee meets at the Hoffman House on Tuesday night.

Referring to the nominations made at Buffalo, Mr. Danforth said; "Mr. Thacher's nomination takes unusually well in New York city. Democrats generally consider his nomination an ideal one."

crate generally consider his nomination an ideal one."

Frank Adams Acer, who was an Assistant Corporation Counsel in New York city under William H. Clark, accompanied Mr. Danforth here on his visit to Senator Hill. Mr. Acer is a member of the Democratic Club of New York city, of which former Gov. Roswell P. Flower is President. This Democratic organization will meet at the club house in New York city to-morrow night to consider the report of the sub-committee, which was appointed some time ago, to report as to what action the club should take with reference to the nomination of Bryan and Sewall. As to what will follow at the meeting to-morrow night what will follow at the meeting to-morrow night Mr. Acer said:

"An effort will be made to have the report of the sub-committee tabled, if this is not done, a resolution andorsing the Chicago ticket and platform will be introduced and strongly urged. For my part, I think the club should take no action on the question. The support of the club as an organization will neither elect nor defeat a cardidate, and therefore affirmative action should not be taken against the Chicago nominess. Such a course would undoubtedly result in a disruption in the club which would be deplorable."

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 20 .- The peculiar spectacle of the official head of the Republican party declaring to support the Popocratic State ticket was presented to-day. It came in the shape of an interview with Major Judson W. Lyons. Republican National Committeman for Georgia, who urges all the colored people of the State to support Gov. Atkinson. He explains that he takes this step because of Atkinson. He strong efforts to put down lynching in Georgia and his unfailing fairness to the colored people.

FORE FOR THACHERS OTHER NOT.

Nor for a Solitary Popocratic Candida for Congress or Assembly. The sound-money Democrats of the State de clare that they are not to be hoodwinked by John Boyd Thacher's candidacy for Govern Perry Belmont voiced their sentiments when he said yesterday: "It is difficult to see how no tional and State issues can be separated in this campaign, and candidates for State, Legislative, and national offices must stand or fall ac cording to the position they hold upon national issues."

The State Committee which is to have charge of the Convention in the Brooklyn Academy of Music on Thursday, and which is to conduct the campaign of the sound-money candidates Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, ha been completed, and is as follows, one member for each Senate district:

been completed, and is as follows, one member for each Senate district:

1. Howard R. Bayne, S. Patrice J. Gleason, S. John A. Henneseey, 4. J. Herbert Watson, 26. M. V. B. Honnett, 27. John H. Schiedt, 27. John H. Schiedt, 28. H. O. Heire, 27. John H. Schiedt, 28. H. O. Heire, 28. H. O. Heire, 25. John J. Linson. [50. Frederick A. Fuller.

The Popocrats who ditched the party at Bufralo are very angry over the determination of the sound-money Democrats to nominate candidates for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, and also for Congress and the Assembly. The Popocratic State Committee is to meet at the Hoffman House to-morrow night. It will undoubtedly formally select Frank Campbell of Bath to be National Committeeman in place of William F. Sheehan. A friend of Senator Hill and Senator Murphy, who did not wish his name printed, said at the Hoffman House last night:

night:

"If another candidate for Governor is nominated in the Brooklyn Academy of Music I would advise that John Boyd Thacher should come out openly for free silver and fight to the death. No second candidate should be nominated in the second candidate and the second ca death. No second candidate should be nominated. Such a proceeding would so nettle the regulars that the Bryan vote in the State would be increased 25,000 thereby."

All this is considered very pretty, but it is not accepted by Democrats familiar with the situation in the State. It is their opinion that the "regular" machine, which was so much in evidence at Buffalo, is to be utterly smashed on election day. Even among the head engineers it has been admitted that "it will take seven or eight years after election to gather up the pieces."

CHICAGO'S GREAT MEETINGS. The Collseum Engaged for Four Monster

Sound-money Railles. CHICAGO, Sept. 20.-Chicago is soon to have series of political orations, the like of which will probably not be enjoyed during the cam paign by any other city. Such orators as Dr. Chauncey M. Depew and Bourke Cockran, Thomas B. Reed and J. Sterling Morton will make the welkin ring in speeches at the Coliseum in support of sound money. The contract for the sound-money meetings at the Coliseum was closed yesterday. Each of the four is to be held under the auspices of a different organization, but all for a common purpose.

The Depew meeting on the evening of Chicago Day will be under the auspices of the Marquette Club. The second meeting will be under the direction of the Hamilton Club. Who the speaker will be for this meeting has not been determined, but in all probability it will be Thomas B. Reed of Maine. Speaker Reed is to be in Chicago for three or four days, and it is more than likely that one of his addre-ses will be to a multitude in the big building. The American Honest Money League, under whose auspices the Schurz and Cockran meetings in Chicago were held, will have charge of the third of the Coliseum meetings. It is possible that Chicago were held, will have charge of the third of the Coliseum meetings. It is possible that Mr. Cockran may be secured by the league again, as it was hoped might be done when he spoke at the Auditorium and 15,000 persons who had applied for seats had to be disappointed for want of room. If not Mr. Cockran, J. Sterling Morton, Secretary of Agriculture, will be the medium through whom the doctrines of sound money will be proclaimed. The fourth and final meeting of the series will be given under the auspices of the American Republican College League, the details of the same to be arranged later.

These great meetings are designed primarily

These great meetings are designed primarily for the workingmen of the city, the plan of the for the workingmen of the city, the plan of the originators being to make the series, togethe with the meetings that have gone before an some contemporaneous ones, notable for teaching sound-money doctrines. The opportunity to secure Dr. Densew for 'hicago Day was mad possible because he is to be the orator of the day at the anniversary of the great Lincoln-Doug las debate at Galesburg on Oct. 7.

The Candidates of the National Democracy

Senator John McAuley Palmer of Illinois, the candidate of the Indianapolis National Convention for President, will arrive with Mrs. Palmer at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning, Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, the candidate for Vice-President, will come from his Kentucky home on was pushed along yesterday at the headquarters of the sound-money Democrats, 39 East Twenty-third street. Daniel G. Griffin of Watertown, Chairman of the New York delegation at Indianapolis, will call the meeting to order, and Hoswell P. Flower, who was temporary Chairman at Indianapolis, will preside

Bendes Gens. Palmer and Buckner. Dr. William Everett, a son of Edward Everett of Massachusetts, Col. John R. Fellows of New York, and James H. Eckels, Comptroller of the Currency, are expected to speak. It is still possible that Secretary Carlisle will hearken to the solicitations of the managers and come from Buzzard's Bay in time to speak. The following telegram has been received from Secretary J. Sterling Morton:

Nerrasax Citt. Nab. Sept. 18.—Thanks for kind invitation. Regret cannot accept. Paimer and Buckner represent honest money, honest bemocra-y, and mature American statemanship. I believe in them and their creed.

ANOTHER BROOKLYN BOLTER. Lawyer Alexander Cameron Repudiates the

Chicago Platform Lawyer Alexander Cameron of Brooklyn, who has long been actively identified with the Democratic organization in Kings county, has declared against the platform of repudiation and clared against the platform of repudiation and resigned his place as a delegate to the General Committee. In his letter to Chairman James D. Bell of the committee he says:

As the General Committee has ratified the principles enunciated in the Chicago platform, and as I am unalterably opposed to those principles, believing them un-Democratic and fraught with great danger to the welfare of the country, and as I will not support the candidates nominated upon such a platform. I hereby tender my resignation as a delegate to the General Committee from the Twentleth district of the Seventh ward.

CHAIRMAN COURTER BOLTS BRYAN. The Democratic Leader in Bloomfield Can-

not Support the Chicago Ticket. BLOOMFIELD, Sept. 20.-William R. Courter has been the Democratic leader in this township for seven years, and as Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee in this town has directed the campaigns locally. Mr. Courter has resigned the Chairmanship in a letter in which he says:

"My principles as a Democrat will not permit me to endorse or assist in the election of the candidates for the Presidency or the Chicago platform. I cannot give my aid, however insignificant it may be, to have our country 'crossed with thorns' instead of 'crowned with gold."

TAMMANY HALL FUNERALS

ORDERED ON AN UNPRECEDENTED

NCALE BY SHEEHAN.

Grant and Gliroy and Fellows, Ed Kearney, J. J. Fhelan, and J. J. Martin-Must They All Submit to Discipline at the Mands of the Man from Buffalot - Well! Well! John C. Sheenan, funeral director of Tammany Hall, says: "Any man who claims alle-giance to Tammany Hall and does not do his best to elect Bryan and Sewall will have no standing in the organization. Every leader of every district will mark the traitors. Never, low or hereafter, will any traitor be recognized in Tammany Hall. This is our fight-a fight for our name. Tammany will not be an organization of Democracy unless it gives its vote for Bryan and Sewall. No man can remain a member of Tammany Hall who does not vote the

This, it will be observed, puts under Mr. Sheehan's awful ban ex-Mayors Grant and Gilroy, District Leader Edward Kearney, District Attorney John R. Fellows, ex-Park Comnissioner Edward Bell, ex-Dock Commissioner J. Sergeant Cram, and J. J. Phelan and hundreds of other prominent members of the organization who are openly opposed to the election of the Boy Orator. It includes also James J. Martin, Chairman of the Executive Committee of Tammany Hall; District Leaders Rollin M. Morgan and T. C. T. Crain and plenty more who were content to remain passive, but are alto gether unwilling to interest themselves actively in behalf of the Chicago ticket.

straight National and State tickets next Novem-

Knowing just what the situation is in the organization, the rank and file of Tammany was considerably amused by Mr. Sheehan's threat of excommunication for traitors. If only those who have openly declared themselves against the Boy Orator were to be covered by the edict, Tammany would lose its best blood, but when the declaration is made so sweeping as to include the men who are passively opposed to the Chicago ticket they look on Mr. Sheehan's talk as ridiculous.

Some Tammany men took Mr. Sheehan seriously, and one of these said: This is hardly the time for the leader of Tammany Hall to indulge in threats of discipline. It is in the memory of most of the members of Tammany Hall that another Democratic organization was in the ascendancy in this city for about sixteen years. Another Democratic organization is striving to super-this city for about sixteen years. Another Democratic organization is striving to supersede Tammany Hall now, and the best way to build it up is for Mr. Sheehan to drive honest members of his organization into it by his threats.

"Mr. Sheehan must not presume to control the conscience of Tammany men in this issue. I know that it would be very nice for Tammany's rauk and file to stand together now and make a good showing at the polls, but the election of Bryan and Sewall is out of the question, and the gold men in Tammany Hall cannot be made to vote for them by threats. A Tammany Judge told me at Buffalo that I ought to vote for Bryan for the sake of the organization. He said if he thought there was any chance of the Nebraska man's election he would oppose him, but be believed that he would be beaten out of sight, and the whole duty of Tammany men, under the circumstances, is to make as good a show for the organization as possible. Maybe that is why Mr. Sheehan is threatening. I am afraid his threats will do no good."

Some of the men who discussed Mr. Sheehan's statement said that they believed that it was made merely because he expected a terrible slump and he wanted to shield his administration against the charge of treachery to Bryan.

Mr. Sheehan, it will be seen, admits that his organization is in a very had way and that thryan's chances of carrying New York city are very slight. Indeed, a well-known member of the organization in the Thirtteth Assembly district who was not at all frightened by Boss Sheehan's fulmination said last evening:

"I'm a gold man and shall vote for McKinley. I'm a gold man and shall vote for McKinley." I don't care what Mr. Sheehan says. This is an issue which is of such interest to me that the interest of the Tammany organization must be subordinated. I know a lot of men in the organization who will make a show of supporting Bryan who will vote against him on election day, and will pray that anything they say in his favor will work to his disadvantage.

"This pulpit stands for Christ, and is built upon the eternal granite of truth. It must, therefore, protest against every opposition to the principles of Calvary and Sinai. I am not here to discuss monometallism or bimetallism, but to commend honesty. The Chicago platform stands for dishonesty when it advocates a plan by which any man can pay his honest debts for 53 cents instead of 100 cents to the dishonest. May debts for 53 cents instead of 100 cents to the a later train. The demonstration in the Madison dollar, and the crime is more monumental when it is proposed to have this great nation after all its splendid history, stand before earth and heaven as the repudiator of its obligations and neaven as the repudiator of its obligations, which were bathed in its own life's blood. This 16 to 1 proposition means, and is acknowledged to mean, the diabolical privilege of defrauding our neighbors. It does not make any difference how long this state of affairs continues, it would rest beneath the curse of heaven, and every honest man should bury it beneath the ballot.

"The proposition is made that every honest man should bury it beneath the hallot.

"The proposition is made that every man can pay his honest debts by defrauding his creditors out of half the money, and all can read it, though they be fools. We have reached strange times, when a silver mine owner or any other man can proclaim to the world that two and two make seven or that three inches make a foot. What folly! Values are not created by words or by a Government stamp. Behold here we have the unholy alliance of a lie and a theft! The man who has silver is the only man benefited, and the injustice of the set is beyond computation. What right have men to put the eighth commandment to a popular vote? It is blasphemy."

WINDSTORM OF BRYANISM. How the Business Skies Will Clear When the Blow Is Over,

The Rev. William Justin Harsha, D. D., pastor of the Second Collegiate Reformed Church in Harlem, preached last night on "The Present Business Situation and the Christian Attitude Therein." He took for his text Job. xxxvii., 21, And now men see not the bright light which is in the clouds, but the wind passeth and cleanseth them."
"We should be in an attitude of hope," he said. "Things are bound to improve. I have said. "Things are bound to improve. I have faith in the soundness at heart of the American people. If for a short moment they are dazzled by the false prospect of securing something for nothing, there will come at length ringing into their hearts the plain old command. Thou shalt not steal." So that for one i look forward with calm hope to the great contest which is before us. The very commotion in which we are living is pictured in my text. The wind passeth. Storm always clears the sky, and the result will unquestionably be the restoration of confidence and a larger and truer wisdom on questions of finance and national policy."

C. L. U. WON'T COMMIT ITSELF. Another Attempt to Get It to Endorse Bryan Falls.

Another attempt was made at yesterday's meeting of the Central Labor Union to commit that organization to an endorsement of Bryan and the Chicago platform. Delegate Armstrong of Electrical Workers' Union No. 3 said he was tired of the constant endeavor to bring politics into the C. L. U.

"Who is Mark Hanna," he said "that all the arrows of organized labor should be shot at him? He is no worse than many others. Senator Jones sent the printing for the Bryan cam-paign to Alexandria. Va., because he could get men to work there for St a week instead of get-ting it done at Washington where the men get $18 a week." It was finally resolved that the proposed reso-lution should be "put on file," as the C. L. U. had nothing to do with religion or politics. A committee was also appointed to pass on all such resolutions in future before they can be submitted to the meeting.

"DISHONESTY'S DOLLAR."

The Rev. Dr. Scudder Preaches Against the Programme of Repudiation. The Rev. Dr. John L. Scudder, pastor of the Jersey City Tabernacle, in a prelude to his sermon last night talked of "Dishonesty's Dollar."

"If honesty is a part of religion the pulpits of this country should thunder against the threatened repudiation of individual, corporate, and national debts. This free-silver doctrine was conceived by avaricious mine owners and if ever put into practice it would be a gigantic swindle, virtually confiscating a portion of every man's dollar, be he rich or poor. The secret of this crazy movement is the determination of millionaire miners to keep up the price of their special commodity on a declining market. For over a decade they have agitated through newspapers under their control, present they have deceived multitudes of people who honestly believe that the free and unimited coinage of silver at the artificial ratio of 16 to 1 is the only panacea for hard times. For he people thus led unwittingly astray by these astute politicians. I have no word of condemnation. Many of them are as conscientious as they are fanatical. But for the tricky lenders who have systematically duped them I have cordial contempt, for they care little how much they deceive the people or dishonor the nation so long as they can fill their own pockets. The history of this silver movement is the record of a bold conspiracy of wealthy mine owners to binf Congress, befog the people, and bolster up the depreciating product of their mines.

"The so-called crime of '73 is one of their political catch words. The real crime consisted in their wheedling the government into buying 4,000,000 ounces of silver per month, miling up the unnecessary coin in the Treasury and entailing a loss to the Government of $145,000,000.

This was the biggest piece of political trickery and bulldozing ever perpetrated in the country. But they have gone from bad to worse. Their impudence has increased with their colossal fortunes. When at last, in 1893, our Government became alarmed and put a ston to this reckless folly; when it refused to purchase any more of this ever-decreciating silver, then the mine owners pushed the present infequitous achieves the forcements to take recomments to the covernment became alarmed and put a ston to are fanatical. But for the tricky leaders Idon't care what Mr. Sheehan says. This is an issue which is of such interest of the Tammany organization must be subordinated. I know a lot of men in the subordinated. I know a lot of men in the subordinated. I know a lot of men in the organization who will make a show of supporting Bryan who will vote against him on election day, and will pray that anything they say in his favor will work to his disadvantage.

"I have in mind one of the men who is on the list of campaign orators. He is speaking for diryan because he wants to keep up the appearance of regularity and be cannot do it unless he speaks, for he is one of the orators regularly enlisted in Tammany campaigns. This man has assured me over and over again that he will vote for McKinley, as I intend to do."

"IT SIANDS FOR DISHONESTI."

The Chicago Platform Denounced by the Rev Cortland Myers' discourse in the Baptist Temple in Brooklyn last night. In his opening remarks he made this reference to the Chicago platform of repudiation:

LAYING IRON GAS MAINS.

Made in Pieces Twice as Long as the Cast In some up-town streets wrought iron gas pipes are being laid. The use of such pipes for manner of laying them are still sufficiently The wrought iron pipe is made in lengths twice as long as the cast iron pipe, and instead of being scaled at the joints with molten lead it is screwed together. At one end of each length of pipe a collar is screwed on. This collar projects for half its width beyond collar projects for half its width beyond the end of the pipe, and into this half the end of the next length of pipe is screwed. When the trench is ready the length of pipe to be used is swabbed out with a dry swab on the end of a long stick and lowered into the trench. The screw thread within the collar and the thread on the end of the pipe that is to be screwed into it are carefully cleaned, and before they are finally joined they are brushed over with melted tar. The pipe is screwed into place with tongs. Three or four men stand along in the trench, each with a pair of long-handled tongs, gripping the pipe. When the men throw the handles forward, away from them, the tongs let go; when they pull the handles toward them, the tongs grip and turn the pipe. When the end of the pipe has been started in the collar a man sitting near it taps the pipe with a hammer at regular intervals as the men turn. The slight jarring from these strokes helps to make the pipe turn a little more easily; the men, swinging forward and backward upon the tongs, keep time to the sound of the blows.

If the pipe turns easily the men in the trench can turn it up without difficulty; if it turns hard, short ropes are attached to the upper end of the handles of the tongs, and men standing upon the level of the street get a hold upon these and sway upon them in unison with the men at the handles.

CAUGHT IN POUND NETS.

Why the Proprietor Never Has to Buy Any Pishing Tackle. "A man that owns a pound net," said a fisherman, "never has to buy any fishing tackie. There's a lot of people that seem to think it's all right to catch fish out of a pound not if they can. They come alongside in boats, use fishing rods, and fish over inside. Sometimes men put half a dozen hooks along on a spreader, hung from a line, and drop that inside the net, and then raise it up quickly, with the idea of hooking into fish as they raise it through the water. The angiers that fish in pound nets don't always find the fishing good, and sometimes they lose their tackle. The pound net has a netting across the bottom. Sometimes the angler gots his hook in that; sometimes it gets washed against the net at the side and gots caught there. In trying to free his hooks he breaks his line.

"The pound het fisherman lifts his net usually every day but Sunday; not many fishermen fish on Sunday. Monday is the best day for catching hooks and sinkers and such things, for then the fisherman cleans up a two days take. "It might be that on taking up his net the fisherman would get no mosks at all, or he might find one, or lialf a dozen; but in the course of the season he would be pretty sure to get a good assortment of hooks, and leaders and pieces of line, and sinkers in great variety." can. ### Captured a Florida Crocodile. From the Florida Times Union.

From the Florida Times Union.

A crocodile was exhibited at the foot of Ocean street yesterday merning. The monster measured 10 feet 4 inches. He was caught by L. C. Hantington and Capt. W. Friend on Indian Creek. A tributary of Biscayne Bay, five weeks ago. He weight about 400 pounds. The crocodile has a long, keen snout, filled with teeth which project on the outside of his laws. There are several points about him that differ from the American alligator. Mr. Huntington and that there were four or five other crocodiles in Indian Creek. The hunt for the one he has eccupied five days.

GROSVENOR FIGURES UP.

THE M'RINLEY MATHEMATICIAN PROPHESIES ABOUT ELECTION.

He Gives McKinley 978 Electoral Votes as Sure and Bryan 70 as Sure-There Are Probably Get and 64 that Bryan May Get. ATHENS, O., Sept. 20.-Gen. Grosvenor to-night rave out a table of estimates of the probable result of the Presidential election. He said :

"I have been urged for several weeks to authorize the publication of a table of estimates of the Presidential election, and I have hesitated to do so because there was more or less uncertainty in regard to the result; not that there has ever been any uncertainty or doubt in the intelligent mind as to who would be elected, but following the St. Louis Conven-tion and the nomination of Brran and Sewall by one faction of the Democratic party. and the substantial absorption of the Populist party which succeeded that event, there was some uncertainty as to how a number of the States would finally go, and this condition of uncertainty has not yet entirely disappeared. but the general drift of political events has reached a point where I think I need not healtate to point out substantially how the several States will go.

"The six New England States, with thirtynine electoral votes, will go to McKinley, so I head my table as follows:

lichigan .... "Here is a total of 278 votes, or 54 more than sufficient to elect, all of which are practically sure for McKinley, I come to some States which are still in doubt, but which, under the high tide of Republican success now sweeping over the country, will be almost sure to vote for McKinley, if not all of them, at least a very large proportion of them, to wit:

"Here are 35 electoral votes from which Mo-Kinley will surely receive enough to make good any accident that may befall the total of 278. Of the running States, Louisians, 8; Tennessee, 12: Missouri, 17: Texas, 15: Virginia, 12: Total 64, one or more of them are in the line of possiplausible and loquacious demagogues, until at | bility, I might almost say reasonable probability. "I concede to Bryan and Watson or Bryan and Sewall and whoever it may be at the right time:

Alabama. 8 Nevada 4 South Carolina... 4 Utah Colorado,.... Fiorida..... Georgia..... Idano Mississippi... Total "These are practically sure for the opposition.

"These are practically sure for the opposition, although there may be a possible dispute even along that line. I put my estimate upon the facts within my own personal knowledge of the rapid and mighty chance in public sentiment that has been going on ever since the actual campaign of 1806 began. I believe that the vote of Arkansas, to which our opponents are pointing with pride, is more significant of coming results in the middle and Western States than is even the magnificent victory in Maine. The fact that a State like Arkansas, with the character of whose elections we have become so familiar, exhibited such a splendid increase of Republican votes and such a significant decrease of Democratic votes, is in the highest degree important and a relative increase of Republican votes in the other States of the middle and West would give us practically a solid vote. No sensible man can shut his eyes to the fact that the Mckinley tide has been rising since about the lat of August, and that the ratio of its increasing power grows greater every day. The entire campaign is suggestive of 1872, when in July and August there was grave apprehension that Greeley might be elected. Yet in November he was overwhelmingly and disastrously defeated.

"I may add in this connection that estimates and prophetic utterances of our opponents may be well illustrated by the situation in Ohio. During my recent trip to the East I found scores of Republicans who were anxiously inquiring if Ohio would be carried by McKinley, and scores of Democrats who insisted that their information left no possible doubt of McKinley's defeat in his native State. I even saw attributed to Chairman Jones of Arkansas the suggestion that Ohio was confidently relied upon as Bryan State.

"Since my return I have had advices from every Congress district in the State, and I predict with confidence that I am willing to maintain at any hazard that McKinley will have more than 100,000 majority in Ohio, and that we will carry as many Congress districts as we did in 1894, although there may be a possible dispute even

Those who are familiar with the utterances of both Mr. Hanna and Mr. Quay declared yesterday that they believe there is altogether too much overcondence as to the result of the battle. It is well known and it is admitted at Republican headquarters and elsewhere at Republican and proposed labor agitaat Republican headquarters and elsewhere that a number of demagoric labor agitators are opposed to McKinley and Hobart. The solid and substantial leaders of substantial labor organizations are arrayed against Bryan, and as far as they may go are counselling their followers that Bryan's election, backed up by a free-silver House of Representatives, would bring catastrophe on the business and manufactoring world. But Eugene V. Debs and his sort, whose business is to throw men out of work, not to find work for them, are as busy as the devil in a gale of wind and making all the mischief they can.

Chairman Hanna is to be in New York on Wednesday. He will give his associates on the Executive Committee the facts concerning the situation in the central Western States and the Northwestern States. Senator Quay was quoted at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday as saying: "McKinley is to have a walk-over." Senator Quay told his friends that he had been in too many political battles to talk that way in September.

FISHES HOOKED AND LOST.

Sometimes Caught Again by the Angler, Frequently Taken in Nets. "When an angler's line breaks, and he loses a fish," a fisherman said, "It isn't certain that the fish is lost for good. Another angler may catch it, and sometimes an angler catches and lands a fish that he has once lost himself. Fishermen scarcely ever draw a seine without taking one or more fish that have been hooked and lost. Sometimes such fishes are in good condition, sometimes emaciated and feeble. condition, sometimes emaciated and feeble. It may depend on how long they have had the hook in their mouth, or on how they were hooked. I've heard of a striped bass that was a good lively fish, though it had a hook in its mouth and was towing a length of line with an another hook and a sinker attached to it. Sometimes a fish that has broken away with a hook starts out with maybe six feet of line trailing from it. Sooner or later other fish are likely to bite this off. A fish may have been hooked in such a way that it can't feed; of course, is couldn't live without eating. The wound made by a hook may be attacked by fungus. In that case the fungus would be likely to kill it. It might be that the wound caused by a hook would be so slight that it would heal up with the hook embedded in it, and the fish might get along all right. But a fish with a hook in its mouth is most likely to die."

The cold weather overspread all the middle At-The cold weather overspread all the middle At-lantic and New England States yesterday. In the lake regions and the Upper Misaissippi Valley kill-ing frost was reported. The temperature was be-low freezing point in northern Montana, the Da-kotas, and Minnesota, and from 2 to 6 degrees above freezing point in Michigan. In the middle Atlantic and New Ergiand States the coldest park of the wave is to be expected this morning, with frost in exposed places over the interior of the frost in exposed places over the interior of the State, after which it will warm up again. In this city yesterday it was cool and fair; high-
